

ALAMOGORDO NEWS-ADVERTISER

An Independent Weekly Newspaper Published Every Friday by
CHAS. P. DOWNS

Entered as second-class matter December 7, 1912, at the post office at Alamogordo, New Mexico, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

The News-Advertiser is the Official Organ of the County of Otero and the Town of Alamogordo, N. M.

Court Matters.

Should some of the courts continue to prescribe the rules of court etiquette for witnesses, parties, bystanders, etc., there will soon be a field for a work entitled "Smith's Leading Principles of Court Etiquette" or "Madam X's Approved Manners for Court Wear," and others of similar import, says "Law Notes." On the trial of a case in one of the courts recently the judge suspended proceedings for the purpose of insisting that a party to the action on trial assume a posture which would correct what he caustically termed an indecent exposure, consisting in exposed lower limbs revealing a glimpse of silken feminine hose. Waiving the contention of those who viewed the incident that the exposure was quite the contrary from "indecent," it would seem that such remarks from the bench do not tend to impress off with the dignity of the court, as they are calculated to, but rather tend to show a desire to make a personal display of the power of the judge. The power of a court in session with reference to those within the range of the judge's vision has aptly been likened to that of the captain of a vessel at sea, and so great a power should not be lightly used, or grossly abused, otherwise the power will be destroyed.

After the Pie.

The Clovis News had a change of heart last week and will in the future be Democratic instead of Independent (Republican), says the Tucumanian Sun. J. E. Curran, father of Arthur E. Curran, the former editor, will hereafter edit the paper. Here is a paragraph from the Salutatory which is extremely fertile in "guano de torro":

"We are proud of our president, Woodrow Wilson, and thoroughly in accord with his administration, as also are we delighted with our time honored and much esteemed friend, W. C. McDonald, as governor, and A. A. Jones whose wise counsel has so successfully guided the party ship to a safe port. And especially are we delighted with our Delegate in Congress an old time personal friend Harvey B. Ferguson—whose never to be forgotten labors helped us to our present high standing among the states of the Union."

Floppity, flippity, flop;
Sometimes Democrat, sometimes Pop.
The party that's hum
We'll leave, by gum.
Floppity, flippity, flop.
Honkity, hinkity, honk;
Once the elephant, now the donk.
The land office biz
We'll keep, gee-whiz,
Honkity, hinkity, honk;
Moneyty, minnity, mon;
Dad steps in and out goes son.
The parties that be
We love, to-bee,
Moneyty, minnity, mon;
Junkity, jinkity, junk;
This change o' heart's all punk.
We want the pie
They've got, h-h-h;
Junkity, jinkity, junk;

Why do people keep bichloride of mercury tablets around the house where they may be mistaken for headache tablets? The whole country was interested in the fight for life made by a young Macon (Georgia) banker who was a recent victim of this kind of housekeeping. The pity of it is that, according to a physician's statement, the swallowing of the white of an egg as an antidote, followed by a teaspoonful of mustard in a glass of tepid water as an emetic, might have saved the man's life if this simple remedy had been promptly administered.

Being an emperor isn't all fun by any means. During his recent visit to Berlin the Czar "remained in seclusion within the shelter of the palace walls throughout the day," for fear of the bomb-throwers. The Kaiser, on the other hand, who isn't afraid of bombs, was "forced to change his uniform thrice in less than three hours as a compliment to his visitors." The simple life has its alleviations.

Chicago is to have a new $50,000,000 union railway station. The great cities of the world seem to be vying with one another as to which shall have the finest terminals. In one age it is castles, in another cathedrals, and now it seems to be railway stations and skyscrapers that tax the architects' skill.

Cloudercroft News Notes.

(By Scott B. Williams)
The lodge was opened to the public for the season of 1913, June 1, 1913. A large crowd registered, many remaining over for several days. R. W. Fort who has been connected with the Humphreys for several years will manage the lodge this season and from the way he is starting things out he will certainly make a success. Mr. Fort is well liked by all who have met him, makes friends fast and seems to be the man for the place. This season he will be assisted by his wife, and Guss Griggs who has spent several summers in Cloudercroft with the old lodge, will be his clerk. S. G. Humphreys of the Paso del Norte Hotel Company of El Paso has the lodge leased this season. He and Mrs. Humphreys spent Sunday at the lodge returning to El Paso Monday. Mr. Fort has secured the services of one of the best orchestras in the Southwest. Mrs. A. Hamberger, the leader, is from Wichita, Kansas. She is assisted by her daughter, Miss Estelle Hamberger and Asa Babes. The music is excellent and is enjoyed by all who attend the dances. The first dance of the season was given the evening of the 3rd at the Pavilion. A large crowd attended. Another dance was given at the Pavilion Thursday evening. The first dance of the season at the lodge was given Saturday evening. A very large crowd attended; in fact it was the largest crowd in the history of the resort to attend the first dance at the lodge of the season. This is a good indication that there will be a good season. Another thing that makes everything look so good for a successful season is that so many cottages will be occupied by their owners this year, instead of being rented. There are many new cottages this year that will be occupied by the owners and a number have been built that will be rented.

Frank C. Polak, cashier of the First National Bank, Alamogordo, at Miss Hazel Shelton, social address of the Alamogordo News-Advertiser, spent Sunday in Cloudercroft.

IN OLD JAPAN.

There, in the dim blue death of day,
Where white tea roses grow,
Petals and accents are strewn
Astray.

The night be sweet snow;
The lovers wander, whispering low,
As lovers only can,
Where rosy paper lanterns glow,
Through streets of old Japan.

DR. PRICE'S Baking Powder

Purity in food, lower cost of living—these are the demands of the day.

Pure food is health, and health is economy itself. We cannot have health without healthful food.

The most healthful foods are the quickly raised flour foods—biscuit, cake, muffins, crusts and other pastry, when perfectly made from wholesome ingredients.

Dr. PRICE'S baking powder makes these foods in specially attractive, appetizing and wholesome form, and for both economic and hygienic reasons, such food should be more largely substituted for meat in the daily diet.

But bear in mind that alum, or unwholesome baking powder, can never make pure, wholesome food.

Left for Her Home.

Mrs. T. P. Ayers left for her home at Nashville, Tenn., last Friday evening, accompanying the remains of her late husband. Mr. Ayers died seven months ago, but Mrs. Ayers did not care to leave for the east at that time. The body was embalmed and has been in the care of A. J. Buck, the undertaker. A large number of the friends and acquaintances of Mrs. Ayers were at the train to bid her goodbye.

Splendid Rains.

The old signs have failed this year again. The rains in this section are with us. We have had several good showers since Saturday last, and as a delightful summer home, Alamogordo cannot be approached.
